

Prepositions

Complete the sentences with an appropriate preposition.

Example:

I was furious with myself for letting this happen.

1. A lot of people are not convinced his innocence.
2. My son is very dear me.
3. Were you aware the consequences?
4. She was jealous his success.
5. When I was little I was terrified dogs.
6. You've been very rude your mother.
7. It was rude you to have said that.
8. I am not accustomed having only five hours' sleep a night.
9. He is very proud his son.
10. He is very upset the results of his test.
11. Did you know that she is very fond your brother?
12. She is very good tennis.
13. It was good you to come.
14. That's the man who is responsible all this mess.
15. Be careful with what you say. She's very sensitive criticism.
16. He is very dedicated his job.
17. Don't be so dependent your brother. Grow up.
18. He's useless languages.
19. Are you related John?
20. Are you close each other?

Prepositions

Complete the sentences with an appropriate preposition.

Example:

I was furious with myself for letting this happen.

1. A lot of people are not convinced of his innocence.
2. My son is very dear to me.
3. Were you aware of the consequences?
4. She was jealous of his success.
5. When I was little I was terrified of dogs.
6. You've been very rude to your mother.
7. It was rude of you to have said that.
8. I am not accustomed to having only five hours' sleep a night.
9. He is very proud of his son.
10. He is very upset about the results of his test.
11. Did you know that she is very fond of your brother?
12. She is very good at tennis.
13. It was good of you to come.
14. That's the man who is responsible for all this mess.
15. Be careful with what you say. She's very sensitive to criticism.
16. He is very dedicated to his job.
17. Don't be so dependent on your brother. Grow up.
18. He's useless at languages.
19. Are you related to John?
20. Are you close to each other?